

PART IV: BRITISH SUBJECTS

CHAPTER 44: AUTOMATIC ACQUISITION BY PEOPLE OTHERWISE BORN STATELESS

SECTION 50(7), BRITISH NATIONALITY ACT 1981

SCHEDULE 2 PARAGRAPHS 1 & 2, BRITISH NATIONALITY ACT 1981

NB. As regards any time before 26 February 2002, references in this Chapter to British overseas territories citizenship and the British overseas territories should be read as references to British Dependent Territories citizenship and the British dependent territories.

44.1 Introduction

44.1.1 To meet our obligations under the United Nations Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, s.36 and Schedule 2 to the British Nationality Act 1981 make provision for the acquisition of the citizenships and status, created by the Act, by certain persons who are or would otherwise be stateless.

44.1.2 This Chapter deals with the provisions for the automatic acquisition of British subject status. Chapter 47 deals with the provisions for acquisition of British subject status by registration.

44.1.3 Guidance on the acquisition of British citizenship is contained in Chapters 5 and 15. Guidance on the acquisition of British overseas territories citizenship is contained in Chapters 25 and 31. Guidance on the acquisition of British Overseas citizenship is contained in Chapters 38 and 40.

44.1.4 The form of British nationality acquired under paragraphs 1 and 2 of Schedule 2 is the same as that of the parent or parents. If, between them, the parents hold more than one form of British nationality, then both will be acquired, except for British subject status. A person cannot become a British subject under paragraphs 1 and 2 of Schedule 2 if he or she acquires another form of British nationality.

44.2.7.1 Under s.50(7), a person born outside the United Kingdom, on or after 1 January 1983, aboard a ship (including a hovercraft) or aircraft is regarded, for the purposes of the Act, as having been born in the United Kingdom if, at the time of the birth:

- the ship or aircraft was unregistered, but belonged to the Government of the United Kingdom; and either
 - a. his or her father or mother was a British citizen; or

44.2.7.2 In relation to any time between 1 January 1983 and 20 May 2002 (inclusive), the provisions of s.50(7) apply to the British overseas territories substituting references to a British overseas territory and British overseas territories citizen for references to the United Kingdom and British citizen respectively.

44.2.7.3 Under s.50(7A), a person born outside a qualifying territory on or after 21 May 2002 aboard a ship (including a hovercraft) or aircraft is regarded, for the purposes of the Act, as having been born in that territory if, at the time of the birth:

44.2.7.5 If the person can be regarded as having been born in the United Kingdom, he or she may be:

- a British citizen under s.1(1) (see Chapter 3); or

- a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen or a British subject under paragraph 1 of Schedule 2 (see 44.2.1-44.2.3 above)

44.2.7.6 If the person cannot be regarded as having been born in the United Kingdom, he or she may be:

- a British citizen under s.1(1) of the British Nationality Act 1981 (if born in a qualifying territory on or after 21 May 2002) (see Chapter 3); or
- a British citizen under s.2(1) of the British Nationality Act 1981 (if born before 21 May 2002 or on or after 21 May 2002 outside the qualifying territories) or s.1(2) of the British Nationality (Falkland Islands) Act 1983 (see Chapter 4); or
- a British citizen, a British Overseas citizen or a British subject under paragraph 2 of Schedule 2 (see 44.2.4-44.2.6 above)

44.2.7.7 If the person can be regarded as having been born in a British overseas territory, he or she may be:

44.2.9 A person who is a British overseas territories citizen under paragraph 1 of Schedule 2 is a British overseas territories citizen by descent (see Chapter 36).

44.2.10 An explanation of the terms 'United Kingdom', 'British overseas territory', 'qualifying territory', 'parent' and 'settled' is in Annex F to Chapter 6.

44.3 Claims to British subject status

44.3.1 Claims to British subject status will need to be investigated when:

- someone writes about his or her own status and/or that of a child
- a question is raised about a child found abandoned in the United Kingdom or in a British overseas territory
- an enquiry is made about the position of a child adopted in the United Kingdom or in a British overseas territory
- adult or minor applicants for British subject status appear already to hold that status

44.4 Procedure for establishing claims

IMPORTANT NOTE: Where an apparent claim or entitlement derives from a personal or ancestral connection with St Christopher and Nevis, it is necessary to consider the effects of the Saint Christopher and Nevis Modification of Enactments Order 1983. Where an apparent claim or entitlement derives from such a connection with Hong Kong, it is necessary to consider the effects of the Hong Kong (British Nationality) Order 1986 and the Hong Kong (British Nationality) (Amendment) Order 1993 (see Chapter 21.4).

44.4.1 To recognise a person's claim to British citizenship, British overseas territories citizenship, British Overseas citizenship or British subject status under Schedule 2, we must establish that EITHER:

a. the person:

- was born in the United Kingdom on or after 1 January 1983; and
- at birth, would otherwise have had no nationality or citizenship; and
- had a parent who, at the time of the person's birth, was neither a British citizen nor settled in the United Kingdom; and
- had a parent who, at the time of the person's birth, was either:
 - i. a British overseas territories citizen; or
 - ii. a British Overseas citizen; or
 - iii. neither, but one or both parents was a British subject under the 1981 Act; OR

b. the person:

- was born in a British overseas territory on or after 1 January 1983; and
- at birth, would otherwise have had no nationality or citizenship; and
- had a parent who, at the time of the person's birth, was neither a British overseas territories citizen nor settled in a British overseas territory; and
- had a parent who, at the time of the person's birth, was either:

- i. a British citizen; or
- ii. a British Overseas citizen; or
- iii. neither, but one or both parents was a British subject under the 1981 Act.

44.5 Evidence required

44.5.1 Persons born in the United Kingdom

44.5.1.1 A person born in the United Kingdom on or after 1 January 1983 may be regarded as a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen or a British subject under the 1981 Act on production of:

- a passport describing the holder as:
 - i. a British overseas territories citizen; or
 - ii. a British Overseas citizen; or
 - iii. a British subject,

OR

- a United Kingdom birth certificate showing parents' details; and
- evidence that at the time of the birth a parent was either:
 - i. a British overseas territories citizen; or
 - ii. a British Overseas citizen; or
 - iii. neither, but was a British subject under the 1981 Act.

NB. If either or both of the parents of the person born in the United Kingdom is a citizen of the Republic of Ireland, or a foreign or Commonwealth country, it will be necessary to have a statement from the authorities of the country concerned confirming that the person did not, at birth, become a citizen of that country.

44.5.1.2 A United Kingdom birth certificate showing parents' details will establish the relationship to the parent(s) and indicate whether the child was born legitimate. A guide to the interpretation of the entries on a United Kingdom birth certificate is at Annex A to Chapter 3.

44.5.1.3 Evidence of a parent's British overseas territories citizenship is:

- a passport describing the holder as a British Dependent Territories citizen or a British overseas territories citizen; or
- a birth certificate showing his or her parents' details and that he or she was born in a British overseas territory before 1 January 1983; or
- (if born on or after 1 January 1983) a British overseas territories birth certificate showing his or her parents' details and evidence that, at the time of the birth, either parent was a British overseas territories citizen or settled in a British overseas territory; or
- a certificate of registration or naturalisation describing the holder as a British Dependent Territories citizen or a British overseas territories citizen; or
- a certificate of registration or naturalisation, issued in a British overseas territory, describing the holder as a citizen of the United Kingdom and Colonies; or

- the relevant documents related to his or her and/or their parents', grandparents', spouse's birth, adoption, marriage, death, registration or naturalisation

44.5.1.4 Evidence of a parent's British Overseas citizenship is:

- a passport describing the holder as a British Overseas citizen; or
- a certificate of registration describing the holder as a British Overseas citizen; or
- similar relevant documents as those required to establish British overseas territories citizenship, but which establish that he or she was a citizen of the United Kingdom and Colonies who did not on 1 January 1983 become either a British citizen (see Chapter 2) or a British Dependent Territories citizen (see Chapter 22)

44.5.1.5 Evidence that a parent is a British subject under the 1981 Act is:

- a passport describing the holder as a British subject; or
- a certificate of registration describing the holder as a British subject; or
- an acknowledgement of a claim to remain a British subject under s.2 of the British Nationality Act 1948 or s.31(3) of the British Nationality Act 1981 (see Chapter 43 or 46); or
- similar relevant documents as those required to establish British overseas territories citizenship, but which establish that he or she became on 1 January 1949 a British subject without citizenship under s.13 or 16 of the

British Nationality Act 1948 and had that status on 31 December 1982 (see Chapter 43)

NB. Except for persons who remained British subjects under s.2 of the 1948 Act or s.31(3) of the 1981 Act, a person who is a British subject under the 1981 Act automatically ceases to have that status if he or she acquires any other citizenship or nationality, which includes the three citizenships conferred by the 1981 Act (see Chapter 49). Unless there is evidence to the contrary, it should be assumed that the parent has not acquired another citizenship or nationality and is still a British subject.

44.5.2 Persons born in a British overseas territory

44.5.2.1 A person born in a British overseas territory on or after 1 January 1983 may be regarded as a British citizen, a British Overseas citizen or a British subject on production of:

- a passport describing the holder as:

- i. a British citizen; or
- ii. a British Overseas citizen; or
- iii. a British subject,

OR

- a British overseas territories birth certificate showing parents' details; and
- evidence that at the time of the birth a parent was either:
 - i. a British citizen; or
 - ii. a British Overseas citizen; or

iii. neither, but was a British subject under the 1981 Act.

NB. If either or both of the parents of the person born in a British overseas territory is a citizen of the Republic of Ireland or a foreign or Commonwealth country, it will be necessary to have a statement from the authorities of the country concerned confirming that the person did not, at birth, become a citizen of that country.

44.5.2.2 Evidence of a parent's British citizenship is:

- a passport describing the holder as a British citizen; or
- a passport, issued before 1 January 1983, describing the holder as a citizen of the United Kingdom and Colonies, and carrying an endorsement stating the holder has the right of abode in the United Kingdom; or
- a United Kingdom birth certificate showing his or her parents' details and that he or she was born before 1 January 1983; or
- (if born on or after 1 January 1983) a United Kingdom birth certificate showing his or her parents' details and evidence that, at the time of the birth, either parent was a British citizen or settled in the United Kingdom; or
- (if born in a qualifying territory on or after 21 May 2002) a birth certificate showing his or her parents' details and evidence that, at the time of the birth, either parent was a British citizen or settled in that territory; or
- a certificate of registration or naturalisation, issued in the United Kingdom, describing the holder as either a British citizen, or a British Dependent Territories citizen, or a citizen of the United Kingdom and Colonies. (An explanation of "registration in the United Kingdom" is given in Annex F to Chapter 6); or

- a certificate of registration or naturalisation, issued in a qualifying territory before 21 May 2002, describing the holder as either a British citizen or a British Dependent Territories citizen or a citizen of the United Kingdom and Colonies; or
- the relevant documents related to his or her and/or their parents', grandparents', spouse's birth, adoption, marriage, death, registration or naturalisation

44.5.2.3 Evidence of a parents' British Overseas citizenship (see 44.5.1.4 above).

44.5.2.4 Evidence that a parent is a British subject (see 44.5.1.5 above).

44.5.3 Birth aboard a ship or aircraft

44.5.3.1 Births which occur on UK ships are reported to the Registrar General of Shipping at Cardiff by the master of the ship. Similarly, births on UK aircraft are reported to the Civil Aviation Authority, and those on hovercraft to the Department of Trade and Industry. In each case, records are sent to the General Register Office, from which certified copies may be obtained.

44.5.4 General principles

44.5.4.1 To guard against the possibility of fraud, we should expect to see evidence of identity over and above that required to establish a claim to citizenship before formally acknowledging a claim. It should be remembered, in particular, that a birth certificate is evidence not of identity, but of an event.

44.5.4.2 Any evidence already on the file should be taken into account. If documents have been seen and noted in the past there is no need to ask to see them again. If the parents' marriage or a parent and child relationship has been accepted as valid by an Entry Clearance Officer, an Immigration Officer, or other official in the United Kingdom or a British overseas territory, or any tribunal or court in the United Kingdom or a British overseas territory, there is no need to ask for further evidence unless there is cause to doubt the previously accepted position. It should be noted, however, that on occasions a subsisting relationship is accepted for immigration purposes whereas, for nationality purposes, a valid marriage is needed.

44.5.3.3 In the absence of some or all of the documentary evidence set out in 44.5.1 and 44.5.2 above, secondary evidence may be acceptable.

44.6 Entitlement to British subject status

44.6.1 A person born after 1 January 1983 outside the United Kingdom and the British overseas territories may have an entitlement to registration as a British subject under paragraph 4 of Schedule 2 (see Chapter 47). In other cases, there is no entitlement to registration as a British subject. If the person is still a minor, we should consider whether it would be right to offer registration at discretion under s.32(1) (see Chapter 45).

44.7 Confirmation of claims

44.7.1 In response to an enquiry about British subject status:

- if a claim to British subject status under paragraph 1 or 2 of Schedule 2 has been established, we should issue a status letter (see Annex H to Chapter 2). The letter should be amended to show that the claim is under either paragraph 1 or 2 of Schedule 2.

44.7.2 If we cannot accept that a person has a claim to British subject status, we should:

- explain briefly why; and
- explain how that person may become a British subject (see 44.6 above)

44.7.3 If we notice that an applicant for British subject status already holds that status under the British Nationality Act 1981, we should:

- write to explain that the application is not necessary; and
- refund in full any fee submitted with the application (see Chapter 6)
